TRANSFER OR WITHDRAWAL OF THE CASE

If you wish to instruct other Firms to deal with your matter or you want to withdraw your case, we will transfer your file to another adviser or to you upon your request. In that case an amount would be calculated based on the work which has been done and an invoice would be issued for that amount. This calculated amount would be transferred to our business account and the remaining (if the calculated amount is less than any previously paid amount) would be refunded to you as the client. If the calculated amount would be more than any advance payment, then you will still be required to pay any amount due over any advanced payment. We may take action in the courts to recover our fees should you refuse to pay the above calculated amount.

Moreover, if for any period of time exceeding 30 calendar days during our instruction, you will not reply to any of our contacts and will not notify us about your decision or course of action, this instruction will be considered as withdrawn and you will owe us a certain amount for the work which has been done which will be calculated at the time of withdrawal.

We will always release your file whether you have paid us or not the above calculated amount. However, we will consider court action and may use services of the regulated Debt Collection Agencies if the above fee is not paid you upon transfer or withdrawal of the case. By signing this letter, you confirm you are aware of these points.

DISTANCE SELLING

If this instruction is signed through online means and not in a face to face meeting, then it will be covered by Distance Selling Regulation 2000. According to the regulations, you will have a 14 calendar days cooling-off period from the date of signing this letter to cancel it.

If you asked us to start the instruction after signing the instruction and then cancel in that 14 days cooling off period, an amount would be calculated based on the work which has been done and an invoice would be issued for that amount. We will consider court action and may use services of the regulated Debt Collection Agencies if the fee is not forthcoming following the successful completion of your application. By signing this letter you confirm you are aware of these points.

If you don't ask us to start immediately, we will start your instruction after this 14 days cooling-off period. This will be decided and agreed before starting the instruction and will be explained clearly in the client care letter.
